

Boilerplate

One paragraph, approved as written. Lift it whole.

Michael Kutcher is a keynote speaker on perspective, resilience, and belonging. Born with cerebral palsy and a heart transplant recipient at thirteen, he speaks to Fortune 500 companies, healthcare organizations, business associations, educational institutions and nonprofits. His message: our circumstances don't determine our future, our perspective does.